Residents urged to recycle

People are often asked to recycle their household waste but without a proper system in place like those found overseas, it is really difficult. Households in Blouberg, Parklands and Melkbostrand will soon be able to separate their weekly waste and get them removed. If it works, the project will be rolled out throughout the Cape Town. Lourens told Aden each household will be given three clear plastic bags in which to dispose their recyclable waste. Residents will put these bags at the top of their wheely bins when they take their bins out once a week. The City Council will be issuing information pamphlets to residents in the area explaining how exactly it will work.
